First Careers Fair resounding success

In order to acquaint senior students with some of the multitude of professions and careers which are open to them, Selwyn House in conjunction with The Study and E.C.S. hosted a Careers Fair on March 19th, 1975.

Invitations to participate were extended to representatives of various professions, and the response was most gratifying. As a result, a wide selection of professions came under discussion by representatives prominent in their fields, and each student was able to benefit by attending three career seminars. Some of the problems dealt with by the meetings included: training and preparation for entry into the career; talents, attitudes and traits of personality helpful for success in that career; the type of daily problems, concerns, satisfactions, and rewards one could expect in that field of endeavour.

The guest panelists who spoke at the Careers Fair were: Mr. R.D. Bourke (Architecture), Dr. H. T. Oliver (Dentistry), Professor Cedric Marsh (Engineering), Mr. J. Adams (Hotel Management), Mr. H. L. Frost (Investment), Mrs. Sheila Arnopolous (Journalism), Mr. T. R. Carsley (Law), Mr. J.A. Kraemer (Manufacturing), Mr. E. M. Ballon (Retail Marketing), Dr. J. Richardson (Medical Research), Dr. D. G. Kinnear (Medicine), Miss K. Randall (Nursing), Mrs. E. Butler (Real Estate), Mrs. Victor Goldbloom (Social Work), Mr. G.H. Merrill (Teaching).

Carnival offered varied programme

This year's Winter Carnival was held with Miss Edgar's and Miss Cramp's School and ran from February 5th through February 7th. During these three days, grade 8 - 11 from both schools enjoyed a variety of activities.

The carnival made an auspicious beginning with eight bus loads of students and staff travelling to Smuggler's Notch in Vermont for a day's skiing. There, under ideal conditions, the group enjoyed both downhill and cross-country skiing.

The following day, School uniforms were exchanged for free dress, and jeans became the order of the day. That evening, the film "Easy Rider" was shown in the gymnasium to a large crowd.

The final day's programme included a carnival king and queen contest at E.C.S. in which the roles were reversed. Andrew Neal was chosen Carnival Queen, while Robin Willis was elected King. This contest was followed by a pie-eating marathon. The afternoon's activities included skating, volleyball, and ball hockey. That evening, the Carnival concluded with a successful and well attended dance in the E.C.S. gym.

S.H.S. to host Canada Day Many Canadian Authors to attend

On Tuesday, May 6, 1975, Selwyn House School will host a Canada Day.

This year's Canada Day will bring together students and teachers from Montreal high schools with Canadian and Québec novelists, poets, critics and editors. Next year's Canada Day will focus on the work of Canadian historians, geographers and social scientists as it relates to literature. The purpose of the two Conferences is two-fold: first, to stimulate a greater awareness and appreciation of our Canadian cultural heritage and of the rich cultural present and, secondly, to promote an interdisciplinary approach to Canadian studies in our secondary schools.

Canada Day will feature a variety of seminars with individual novelists, poets, critics, free-lance writers, translators and editors. Four panel discussions have also been scheduled: "On Canadian and Québec Literature: the Problems of Translation", "The Role of the Writer in Canadian Society", "Small Magazines and Presses in Canada", and "La Littérature Québécoise Inconnue au Canada".

Some 45 writers have recently been invited to attend Canada Day, and among those who have already indicated that they will be with us are: Sheila Fischman, Hugo McPherson, Wynne Francis, Louis Dudek, Seymour Mayne, Fraser Sutherland, Mordecai Richler, Robin Mathews, Hugh MacLennan, Ralph Gustafson, F.R. Scott, Gordon Green, Philip Stratford, Glen Siebrasse, Fred Cogswell, D.C. Jones, John Moss, Rachel Wyatt, Hugh Hood, Graeme Gibson, Don Bell, Anne Charney, John Newlove, Yves Thériault and Naim Kattan.

High Schools throughout Greater Montreal have been invited to send representative groups of Grade 10 and 11 students to this important event. A great deal of interest is being generated in the Day, and it is expected that 1300 guests will be attending. The facilities of St. Andrew's Church, across the street from the School, have been made available for the occasion.

The Hon. Madame Claire Kirkland-Casgrain will open (see page 2 — Canada Day)

Young poets give public readings

On December 22nd, 1974, three Selwyn House students (F. Baker, J. Flemming and M. Gabriel), along with 17 other young, aspiring poets, read selections of their own work at the Vehicule Art Gallery.

Frank Baker's selection of eight poems was a very well-crafted series which explored his relationship to his environment. He also probed the difficulties inherent in writing verse.

John Fleming's selection was larger and demonstrated a good sense of humour, balanced by a series of well-wrought minimal poems. He, too, explored the dilemmas faced by young Canadians who feel acutely the presence of multi-national corporations.

Michael Gabriel read a number of his shorter works which chronicled the moods of Old Montreal and he underlined the paradoxes of the winter land with telling and whimsical observations.

One astute observer at the reading classed the poetry of these three students as ranking among the first five of all the readers at the Vehicule that evening.

Student publication needs support

The English Department of the School again plans to publish The Fourth Dimension so that students can display the creative activities in which they are involved daily. To date, twenty-five percent of the student body have contributed works in poetry, prose and art. Many are exceptionally good and reveal an astute observation of the boys' environment and their emotions. In fact, some of the materials have already been presented outside the (see page 2 . . . New format for Drama Night

On the evening of February 12th, the School gymnasium was transformed into a clever replica of Noah's Ark by members of the Junior School and the Middle School Choir and the Drama Group. This group of students, directed by Mrs. Marsh and Mr. Harker, presented a very imaginative pastiche of choral work, rock music, and drama whose motif was the trials of Mr. and Mrs. Noah.

The lead roles were very (see page 2 . . . Drama Night)

SENIOR HOCKEY TEAM

Senior Hockey Team has solid season

This season for the first time, Selwyn House entered a team in the Senior Division of the G.M.I.A.A. League, a division made up of nine high schools. It is to the credit of the Senior Hockey team and their coach, Mr. Pierre Beauchamp, that they finished the season in a very respectable fifth place, only eight points behind the first place team.

The team, which included four holdovers from last year's squad, featured good positional play and strong team effort in all of their games. Two highlights marked the team's league debut, a win over J.F. Kennedy High School which ended JFK's eight game winning streak and a 2-2 tie with the league-leading Pius X team. Leading scorers over the season were Chris Shannon, Leslie Landsberger and Julian Heller.

The Bantam team played an exhibition schedule of twelve games, of which they won 5, tied 2 and lost 5. Two of the losses were suffered against a team composed entirely of 15-year old players and one against a powerful Fathers-Masters team. Coached strongly in fundamental play by Mr. Cude, the Bantams provided some exciting hockey this season. Their three game series against the Westmount Bantam Selects ended in a perfect split, a win, a tie, and a loss. Effective goal tending was provided by Claude Sauviat and Barry Fregeau, while Richard Iton and Chuck Smith were outstanding on defence. Captain Richard Blundell, Howie Bloxam and Pierre Goad were the team's leading marksmen.

Basketball and Wrestling teams Show promise

This winter, the School had three basketball teams and an Olympic style wrestling team involved in inter-school exhibition matches. Each sport drew representatives from grades 7 to 11 and provided an opportunity to learn new skills or to improve upon those already in the developmental stage.

The wrestling programme, which was initiated last year, moved into competition on a limited basis. Three inter-school matches in Union weight categories were contested by the Selwyn House team. The School won one and lost the other two by a very close margin. Commendable winners in their weight divisions were: Philip Wheeler (75 lbs.), Michel Poirer-Raymond (100 lbs.), Robert Mace (115 lbs.), John Norton (131 lbs.), George Ivy (141 lbs.) and James McLean (150 lbs.).

ball team, led by Andrew Black, Richard Whitehead, Jordan Elliot, Andrew Nemec and Bart Sambrook, played a fourteen game schedule and had a record of 5 wins and 9 losses. The Bantam squad was sparked by the play of Duncan McDougall but, nevertheless, they suffered a 0-5 record. The Senior team played 13 games of which they won 4. The leader of this group was Murray Steeves who averaged 30 points a game. Also prominent were Andrew Malcolm, Timothy Laro and John Finamore.

The high enthusiasm and anticipation of the students make this publication a very worthwhile project. It is hoped that the support of parents and students will remain at the high level shown in past years so that the magazine will continue to be well received.

Seniors out-hustle Old Boys in annual match

On Wednesday, March 12th, the Old Boys' Hockey team was out-skated by the Senior team and lost their annual game by a 5-2 margin.

Despite the strong goaltending of Joe Dydzak, alternate senior team goalie on loan to the Old Boys, this squad of recent graduates was unable to match the strong positional play and aggressiveness of the Senior team. Defensively, Bruce Miller was a standout for the O.B. team, and Brian Fitzpatrick was one of the offensive leaders. Fitz's end to end rush and goal early in the game got the Old Boys off to a good start but they were unable to sustain this offense or capitalize on their power plays. Gerry Miller, Jamie Morgan and John Trott also played a strong game for the Old Boys.

New Media Club popular in Middle School

A new dimension has been added to the Middle School Activities Programme with the addition of the Media Club. This Club was formed to enable students become more informed citizens and, indeed, more perceptive consumers. Consisting of 26 boys drawn from the Middle School and Grade 8, the club elected Stephen Beresford as President and Sean Lallier as Vice-President.

The programme emphasizes the daily influence of communications and communicates and examines especially newspapers, radio and television. Hopefully, members of the Club will develop a more perceptive view of media advertising by group discussions and projected the Conference and Mr. Jack McLelland will close the Day. The Hon. Hugh Faulkner, Secretary of State, has been invited to be the Guest Speaker at the Writer's Lunch on that day.

A comprehensive publishers' display of Canadian Literature is also planned.

Because of extraordinary demand, the number of guests must be strictly limited. Since Canada Day is specifically designed for our own Grade 9 - 11 boys and for high school students of our community, it is deeply regretted that parents, Old Boys and friends of the School cannot be accommodated.

In Memoriam

Michael O'Hearn

The School mourns the loss of one of its most promising graduates, Michael O'Hearn, who was killed in a car accident on November 23, 1974.

Michael graduated from Selwyn House in June 1970 and two years later from Dawson College. He then attended Loyola where he was an Honours History Student and Editor of the Loyola News. Michael had been recommended for a Rhodes Scholarship by the Dean of Arts and Science at Loyola who described him as a "young man who was not afraid to take a stand and incur a risk of public pressure... (with) a truly outstanding intellectual ability, an impressive and respected character."

It was discovered on November 27th, five days after his accident, that Michael O'Hearn had been awarded a Rhodes Scholarship.
